Linted States shall not be seven described in the method of handling our Customers' Cotton without commission having proved so entirely satisfactory last year, has influenced us in adopting the same plan for the coming season.

We will receive and promptly dispose of, for account, all consignments from our customers—free of all commissions—guaranteeing them the very best possible classifications and highest market prices.

Waso's immune Cotton receipts last year and her advance of 1-2c. to 3-4c. over other markets in the State, established her, beyond all doubt, as THE Cotton market of Texas.

There are several reasons to be assigned for the belief that the receipts for the season beginning September 1, 1885, will be equally as large—if not larger—than the shipments of the previous year. We have now located with us resident Spinners' Agents, who have direct connections with the East and Europe, which virtually throws the Cotton immediately into first hands, thus obviating the heavy expenses, low classifications, delays and increase of reight rates resulting from shipments made through commission merchanis of other marke s. Our three competitive Railroad's afford the finest transportation facilities, and insure us lower through and local rates to and from Waso than any other point in the State.

In conclusion, we would especially call the attention of our friends to our increased and carefully selected stock, which has received our closest attention in readiness for the large FALL trade, which is now fairly upon us, our facilities for handling our goods with promptness and safety, and our guarantee to make every transaction mulually satisfactory as well as profitable.

Thanking our customers for their past patronage and soliciting a liberal continuation.

Those Illegal Fences Must Go

Those Hiegal Fences Must Go.

Washinoron, September 1.—It is not the intention of the secretary of the interior to issue any general order in regard to the removal of fences from public lands, but it has been discrimined to deal with cases of violation of the law, specifically. It is believed better results will be thus obtained than from a general order which would be looked upon as a proclamation, binding upon no one in particular. Special agents of the land of the department all cases of Hegal fencing, and instructions looking removal of fences promptly furnished for his guidance in each case. Where the agent is able to effect removal heis directed to do so and when necessary united States marshals will be called upon through the attorney general. This action taken to-day upon the report of agents showing that a large tract of public land is illegally fenced in Southern Colorado, adjoining the Kanasa line, and a letter was sent to the attorney-general requesting him to cause the United States marshals to remove the fences.

Washington, September 1.—At the last session of congress a provision was made for the payment by the United States, of one-half of the cost of taking a census in such states and territories as might take a decennial census, upon the condition that the returns be filed with the secretary of the interior on or before September 1st. The returns from New Mexico have just been received and are as follows: Population in 1880, 131,985, population in 1880, 19,565; farms in 1880, 19,719; in 1880, 19,565; manufacturing establishments in 1885, 239; in 180, 114.

Returns from eight counties in Florida have also been received and the complete returns are expected shortly, up to date. The department has received returns from Colorado, Dakota, Nebraska, New Mexico and Florida: It is known that several other states and territories have made consists but shows whose returns field to reach the department before to clock to-day will not be entitled to receive the rebate provided by the appropriation bill. A Change in Bailway Matters.

City of Mexico, September L.—
The general managership of the Mexican Central railway was transferred to-day by Manager Robinson to Edward W. Jackson, until recently general superintendent of the Vera Cruz railway. Mr. Jackson started this morning for an inspection tour over the entire line to the Texas border, accompanied by the retiring manager and the principal officials of the Mexican Central railway. The retiring manager and the principal officials of the Mexican Central railway. The retiring manager and the principal officials of the Mexican Central railway. The retiring manager and the principal officials of the exication and the principal officials of the Mexican Central railway. The retiring manager said that the rolling stock of the read was in excellent condition also that the rails were good for many years, but that heavy expenditures for ties would be required for the next two years and a half, as the ties on the northern division having all been laid about the same time would require replacement almost simultaneously. A careful husbanding of the company's resources, he said, would be necessary to keep the operating expenses down to a reasonable percentage. Thes in Mexico decay rapidly and for this reason the Vera Cruz road is substituting, at a great expense, steel ties on portions of its track. Wooded ties cost $1 each and replacing ties on a long stretch of road built at the rate of one mile a day must necessarily mount up. The wooden bridges on the Northern division will soon demand replacement by new structures and this work will be imperative. Gen-A Change in Ballway Matters mount up. The wooden bridges on the Northern division will soon demand repracement by new structures and this work will be imperative. General Manager Jackson not yet having carefully inspected the road, is not prepared to give an opinion. He appealends difficulty from the tamper-ing with railway operations by the custom house absurdities in the way of a second inspection of freight at Villa Lardo. This will cause delay in transit and occasion loss and damage. He hopes, however, that the government will be persuaded that all such laws are an obstruction to legitimate business and productive of no good to the treasury. Vice President Simon, of the Mexican Central is now in the State of Michocan looking after his mining interests, and will return here to-morrow, and probably leave for the United States next day. None of the railroad representatives sent here from the government for a renewal of subsidies, have succeeded in persuading the president and minister of finance to abandon their fiscal programme.
